15th Conference on Research in Computer Science and its Applications

Workshop: Early Stage Researcher Session

Call for papers / Call for posters

About the Early Stage Researcher session

The Early Stage Researcher session aims to stimulate the vocation of research for Master 2 and PhD students by offering them a privileged framework to present their work in progress or perspectives through a poster session and flash talks in the format of "My research in 180 seconds."

Masters and PhD whose proposals have been accepted can request support for their travel and accommodation to attend this session and present their work.
